CLAY LACY

About Clay Lacy
An airline captain, military test pilot, air race champion, aviation record-setter and aerial cinematographer, Lacy has accumulated more hours flying jets than anyone on Earth. He has logged 50,000 flight hours in more than 300 aircraft types, set 29 world speed records and performed over 2000 film missions.

In 2010, the Federal Aviation Administration presented Lacy with a Wright Brothers Master Pilot Certificate in recognition of his aviation expertise and safe operations for over 50 years. The same year, he was inducted into the National Aviation Hall of Fame for his legendary achievements as an air pioneer.

Download his book “Lucky Me” for more great stories and photos of Clay’s legendary career.
